'The untold war o' man versus the elements. Oh, I'll tell it to ye. The tale o' the fishermen fightin the ocean. Yer in for a rough ride.'

A storm is brewing in a small fishing village. A young woman returns home, searching for answers about her father's death. But as she begins to weave together the strands of her past, a mysterious force unravels family secrets.

Lost at Sea journeys through a labyrinth of myth and memory in an epic tale spanning forty years of the fishing industry. Featuring the voices of fishermen and their families in their own words - with music, songs and Scots language - it is the lyrical and powerfully evocative story of a North-East fishing family.

Inspired by the loss of playwright Morna Young's fisherman father, Lost at Sea is a personal tribute to the fishing communities of Scotland.

Perth Theatre at Horsecross Arts presents House of Mirth's production

Marie

By Sarah MacGillivray and Phil Bartlett

Directed by Phil Bartlett

Winner: Scottish Arts Club Bright Spark Award, 2017

There's two rules. First, the person you choose must be dead. And second, you have to be dressed up to get in. It's Thursday night in the Prince Arthur and their latest theme night is in full swing. Landlady Liz is run off her feet, whilst husband Barry struggles to get into his new costume.

Elsewhere in London, a young woman from Edinburgh steps off a train, determined to make her dreams a reality. Fast-paced and irreverent, Marie is a darkly comic new play inspired by the life of Mary Queen of Scots, but given a distinctly modern twist.

Beethoven	Coriolan Overture
Mozart	Concerto for Flute and Harp
Beethoven	Symphony No 5

Katherine Bryan, flute
Pippa Tunnell, harp
Sharon Roffman, conductor

'Da-da-da-aaa!' everyone knows the first four notes of Beethoven's Fifth Symphony. Now's your chance to hear the rest - and it's gripping: a no-holds-barred emotional struggle from tragedy to triumph, in some of the most dramatic music ever written. It will be directed by our brilliant leader Sharon Roffman. First, though, comes something a bit gentler, as the RSN's Principal Flute Katherine Bryan and harpist Pippa Tunnell perform Mozart's elegant - but deliciously witty - Concerto for Flute and Harp

New Waves: Antonio Carlos Jobim/Fats Waller The Scottish National Jazz Orchestra

featuring Tommy Smith, Irini Arabatzi, Mario Caribe & Brian Kellock arranged and orchestrated by Bill Dobbins

Fri 3 May: 7:30pm | Perth Concert Hall

£22.50 (inc £1.50 booking fee per ticket); SNJO Youth Card holders £5

This world-class big band celebrates the father of bossa nova, Antonio Carlos Jobim and boogie-woogie piano legend Fats Waller. Antonio Carlos Jobim was the foremost composer of authentic Brazilian bossa nova, and his crossover projects with Stan Getz made him a household name. Few are better placed than saxophonist Tommy Smith, Brazilian guitarist Mario Caribe, and vocalist Irini Arabatzi to articulate the aspirational and escapist nature of this cool, soft, sinuous and sensual music. The immortalised jazz pianist Thomas 'Fats' Waller was an influential, game-changing composer and instrumentalist. He will be lovingly restored as the SNJO visits Waller's popular repertoire. Few pianists are more qualified to bring fresh interpretations to Waller's challenging innovations than Scotland's Brian Kellock.

The Guitar Man

by Jon Fosse translated by Louis Muinzer

Fri 3 May: 6pm + Sat 4 May: 8pm
Joan Knight Studio, Perth Theatre

£12; concessions £11 (inc £1.50 booking fee per ticket); students/under 26s £7.50

'everything has its time, a man and a piece of music...'
A man makes his living singing the same songs day after day. He plays to an audience that is always on the move, always passing him by. People call him 'The Guitar Man'. One winter's night he takes shelter in a bar and tells his story: he came here because of a woman, and stayed here because of a son. Searching for answers, he reaches a decision: to stop playing. Written in 1997, Norwegian writer Jon Fosse speaks to a post-industrial society where rootlessness and homelessness are common experiences. Weaving text, song and silence, this tender study of a so-called 'outsider' traces the balance between loneliness and longing, loss and salvation.

A ceilidh through Scotland's past - and present

This legendary piece of Scottish theatre tells the story of the exploitation of Scottish lands, waters and people over the centuries. From the highland clearances to the oil boom, this is the universal tale of how the greed of a few blights the lives of many. Add a generous dose of Scottish rebellion and irreverence. Throw in some live music and a riotous ceilidh - you've got yourself a rollicking great night out. Following 2015's hugely successful restaging, this new version of The Cheviot takes the story back to its roots, visiting intimate art centres and community spaces, echoing the play's original 1970s tour by 7:84. Come and experience the 'story that has a beginning, a middle but, as yet, no end...'

Reviews from 2015 production

'it has everything, and it throws it at you in generous handfuls; laughter, farce, drama, live song and dance, finely researched political intent'

The Independent

'the Cheviot is 'rousing, raucous, polemical, plangent and fun'

The Guardian

'Joe Douglas's glorious revival of what's arguably the single most important show in the whole history of Scottish theatre'

It's up to us to take a leap of faith and dive, head first, into something true. Proud to introduce S3-4 and their adaptation of Icarus.

An eighteen year-old girl, Mary Shelley, dreams up a monster whose tragic story will capture the imaginations of generations to come.

A young scientist by the name of Frankenstein breathes life into a gruesome body. Banished into an indifferent world, Frankenstein's creature desperately seeks out his true identity, but the agony of rejection and a broken promise push him into darkness. Dangerous and vengeful, the creature threatens to obliterate Frankenstein and everyone he loves, in a ferocious and bloodthirsty hunt for his maker.

Rona Munro's brilliant new adaptation of Mary Shelley's Gothic masterpiece places the writer herself amongst the action as she wrestles with her creation and with the stark realities facing revolutionary young women, then and now.
